A TIME FOR ACADEMICS

Page 22

It's a time for living, cheering, choosing, and taking our own medicine; for protecing, sacrificing, and caring. Elections, tests, I.S. time, football games, electronic education, misplaced modules, put-downs, work to be done, new insights, and thoughts of our friends flood our minds. It's a time for reaching out, making mistakes, and learning to stay with it; to finish a term paper, to really know a person. Grasping at a knowledge of ourselves, we search for what we are and what we want to be; growing with and into school and community. We may be hoping and preparing for the future, but we're living now. It's a time for us.

Homecoming Queen Becky Teeple is flanked by Joy Hammond and Connie Stoller.

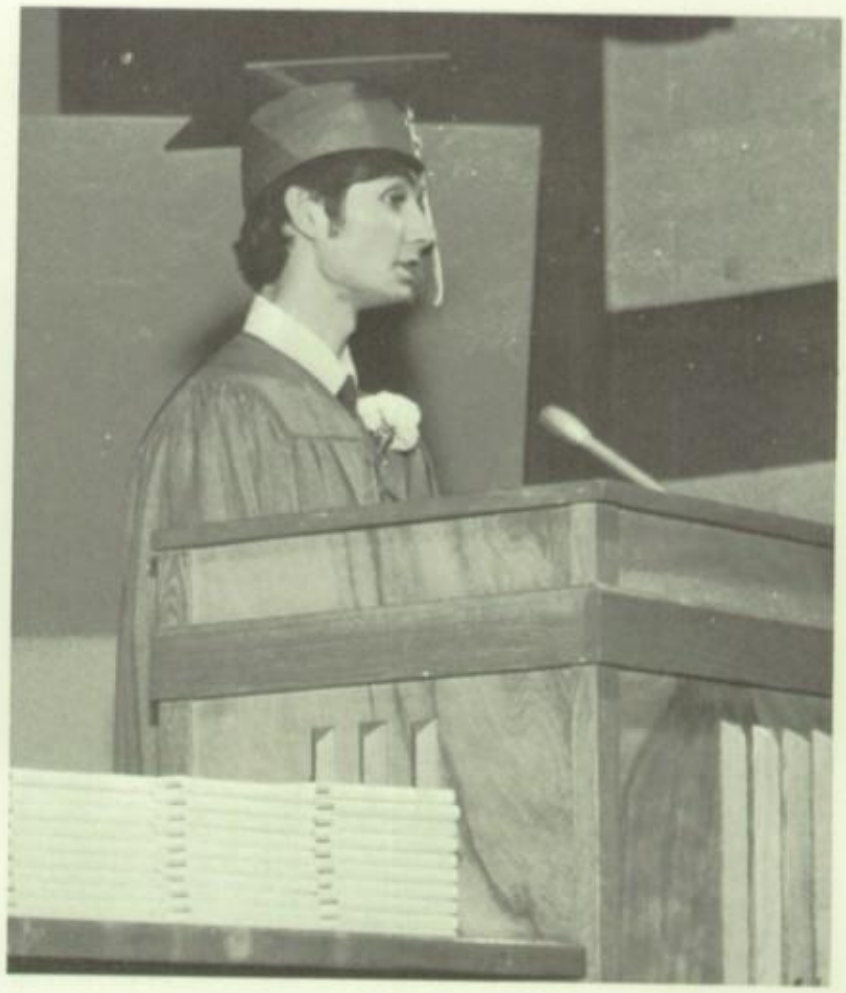
BECKY TEEPLE WINS CROWN, RULES COURT

While strato-cumulous clouds threatened to saturate the gay festival air of homecoming, Queen Becky Teeple and her court courageously circled the track leading a parade of floats which various classes had painstakingly assembled in the previous weeks. Although the Jets took it on the chin in both the featured football game and an exciting half-time cross-country duel, there was still plenty to cheer about at the October 9 event. Pretty girls, hard-nosed competition, and the reunion of old friends and classmates all put homecoming right on top.

Connie Stoller approvingly looks on as Becky Teeple graciously accepts the traditional kiss from Marty Shaffer.

(Right) Valedictorian Darrell Gerig delivers a personal reflection on life and a challenge for his classmates entitled "Meaning in Life". (Below) Mr. Payne offers his congratulations and a trophy to Salutatorian Diane Zurcher.



SCHOLARSHIP AND AWARD WINNERS (L-R): Adams County Medical Society Nursing Scholarship--Pattiann Yost; Spanish Club Award--Rebecca Yost; P.T.A. Education Scholarship--Mary Jo Nussbaum; Sterling Silver Award--Loretta Aschliman. (ROW 2): Choral Award--Darrell Gerig; Freshman Merit Scholarship at Huntington College and Lions Mental Attitude Award in Athletics--Alan Arnold; Chauncey Rose Honor Scholarship at Rose-Hulman Institute--Gary Tullis; J. B. Hershman Scholarship at Valparaiso Technical Institute--Pat Miller, Piano Award--Robert Morrison; John Philip Sousa Award--Dave Smith.

TOP TEN (ROW 1, L-R) Sharon Kaehr (9); Diane Zurcher (2); Carol Germann (3); Monica Jackson (10); Joan Merriman (4). (ROW 2): Becky Host (5); Darrell Gerig (1); Gary Tullis (6); Barry Liechty (8); Ann Engle (7).

Twelve years of a way of life comes to an end with the turning of the tassel.

LIFE IN THE LIBRARY

ODDS AND ENDS

In a symbolistic double exposure, the pep block is really behind our team with minutes to go at sectional.

IN THE HALLS OF A.C.

Even though it may not look like it, Rodney Bryan is all there: it's just a matter of addition.

Caught in the act. The name (John Hack) has been printed to incriminate the guilty.

Aesthetic? Distinctive? Sexy? Well maybe, but we can be glad that Tyler Rupert's "Neat Feet" (center) are most often behind shoes and socks.

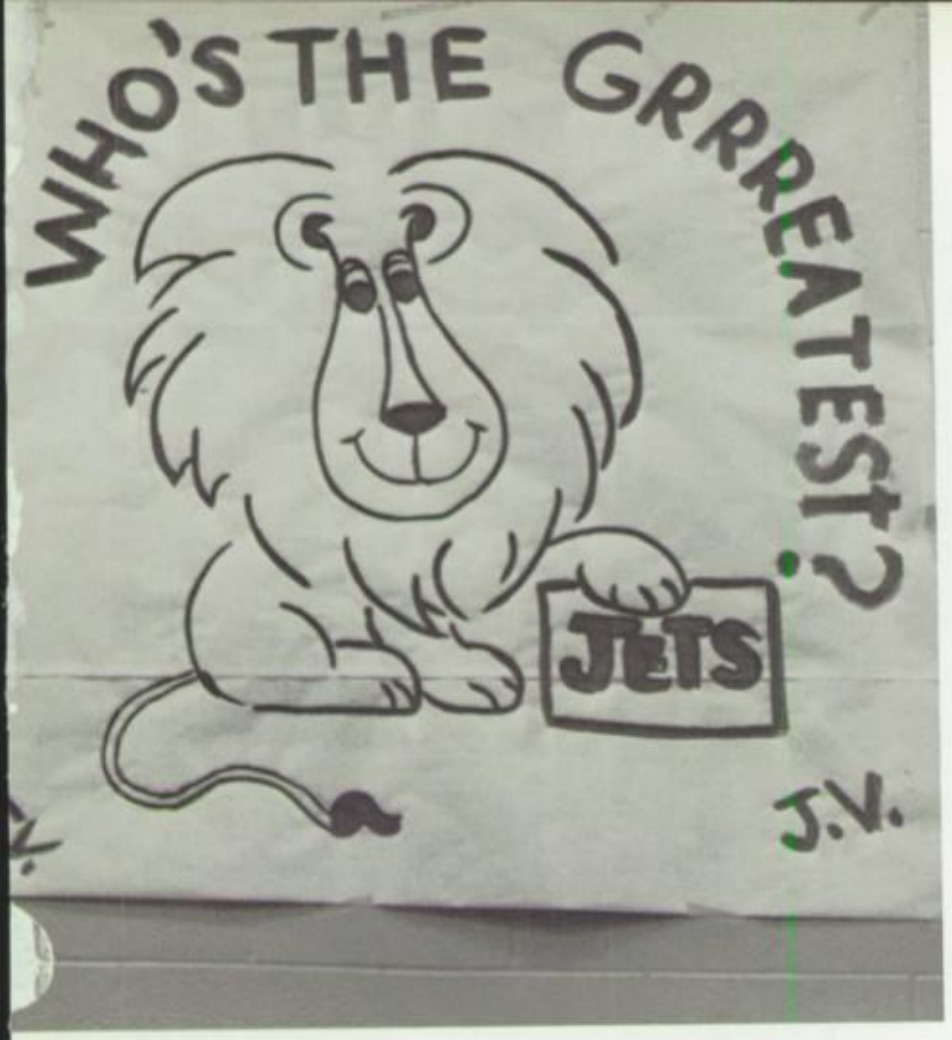
Copping out on his busy schedule, Rod Owens bones up on "The New Book of Knowledge". Looks like he needs a little help.



Inspired by a friendly Lion, the Jets J.V. have got to be the best.

Hats became the rule as Centralites support their team.

Coach Art Habbegar does his best to fire up A.C.'s team and fans in a Thursday night pep session.

Steve Maller and Barb Nussbaum brave a sky full of falling stars to launch "the Spirit of 71".

Freshmen Sue Bollenbacker and Cheryl Nussbaum becomes artists in the effort to win sectional hall.

Nearly getting a chance to swim is the first place soph float "A Whale of a Victory". The juniors landed second with "Happiness is a Warrior Roast".

FLOATS SUFFER WIND DAMAGE, DAMPNESS

Even though floats came in all shapes and sizes (above), the Seniors stuck to something a little more conventional, "Happiness is Reaching Our Goal" to secure third place.

The Art Club's craft (below) graphically represents a "Well rounded team".

U.S. horseshoe pitching champion Danny Kuchcinaki carefully studies his distant target.

Masters of ball control, the Harlem Satellites slipped to a 61--42 win over the A.C. faculty.

Flanked by 27 brimming baskets, FFA President Dave Wilder calls the Thanksgiving Day assembly to order.

Centered between Lynette Wilder and Janet Zurcher (left) is the senior's third place "Horn of Plenty".

"Little acorns make big oaks, little thanks make Thanksgiving" . . . Janis Aronld accepts second prize for Mr. Ehrsam's 7-B class while standing beside the first-place senior's Pilgrim Hat.

SUNSHINE SCENES

(Top) The theme of the 1971 Sunshine Banquet, as can be seen by the realistic setting, was "A Mexican Fiesta". (Center) Touching up the decorations are Mary Jo Nussbaum, Becky Kaehr, and Becky Yost. (Above) Charming Vicki Meyer, Pres. of the Norwell Sunshine Society, provided entertainment. (Right) Besides being a great date, the Sunshine Banquet means good food to the guys.

Hans (Bill Miller) kept the time. Being cooped up in that box for three hours would make anybody scream.

A bird? A plane? No, just Eddie (Dave Smith) whipping those weights around.

Classes

It's a much used maxim that what a person learns in school, if he learns anything, is not the particulars of this subject or that, but the exercise of studying itself. In the freedom of Independent Study at Adams Central this is certainly true. And in a deeper sense it is not in knowing the isomers of pentane or the political system of Inner Zanzibar that true importance lies, but in knowing how to live. Because this is all a part of the world of academics, It's a Time for Classes . . .

Welcoming Mr. Payne into the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is Frank Endicott, Professor of Education at Northwestern University. Adams Central underwent a week of intense scrutiny in December as well as much paper-work and self-evaluation throughout the year.

AC EVALUATED, ACCEPTED BY NORTH CENTRAL

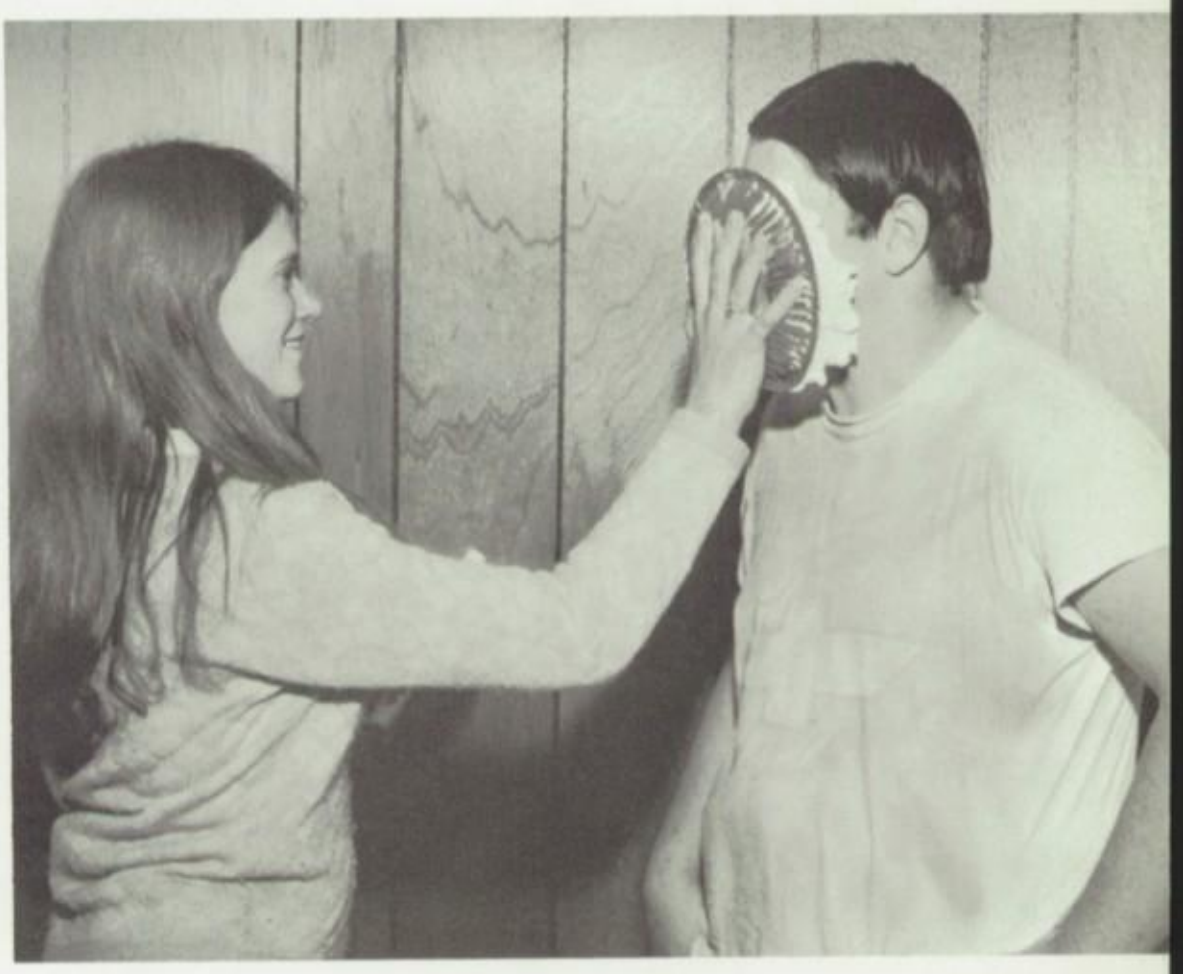
A.C. might not have the facilities, but the spirit is there as Dean Leyse demonstrates water skiing in Speech class.

Patti Yost makes an emphatic point as members of the senior lit class, portraying 17th century authors, go on TV. (Right) With not quite twelve, and certainly not all men, this soph lineup is reading through "Twelve Angry Men".

(Left) Books, books everywhere as the English Dept. sponsored a fund-raising book fair. (Below) Kathy Bieberich seems to be enjoying herself just a little to much as she "creams" Denny McCullough in an advertisement being taped for the "Jet Stream".



Mrs. June Grove, Composition, Senior Literature, Journalism; Mr. Jerome Markley, Speech, Junior English; Mrs. Carmen Wilks, Sophomore English; Miss Elline Rimmell, Freshman English.

An integral part of any school system is the English department. Since it's prime objective is furthering the abilities for communication, both oral and written, success here can parallel success within other departmental areas.

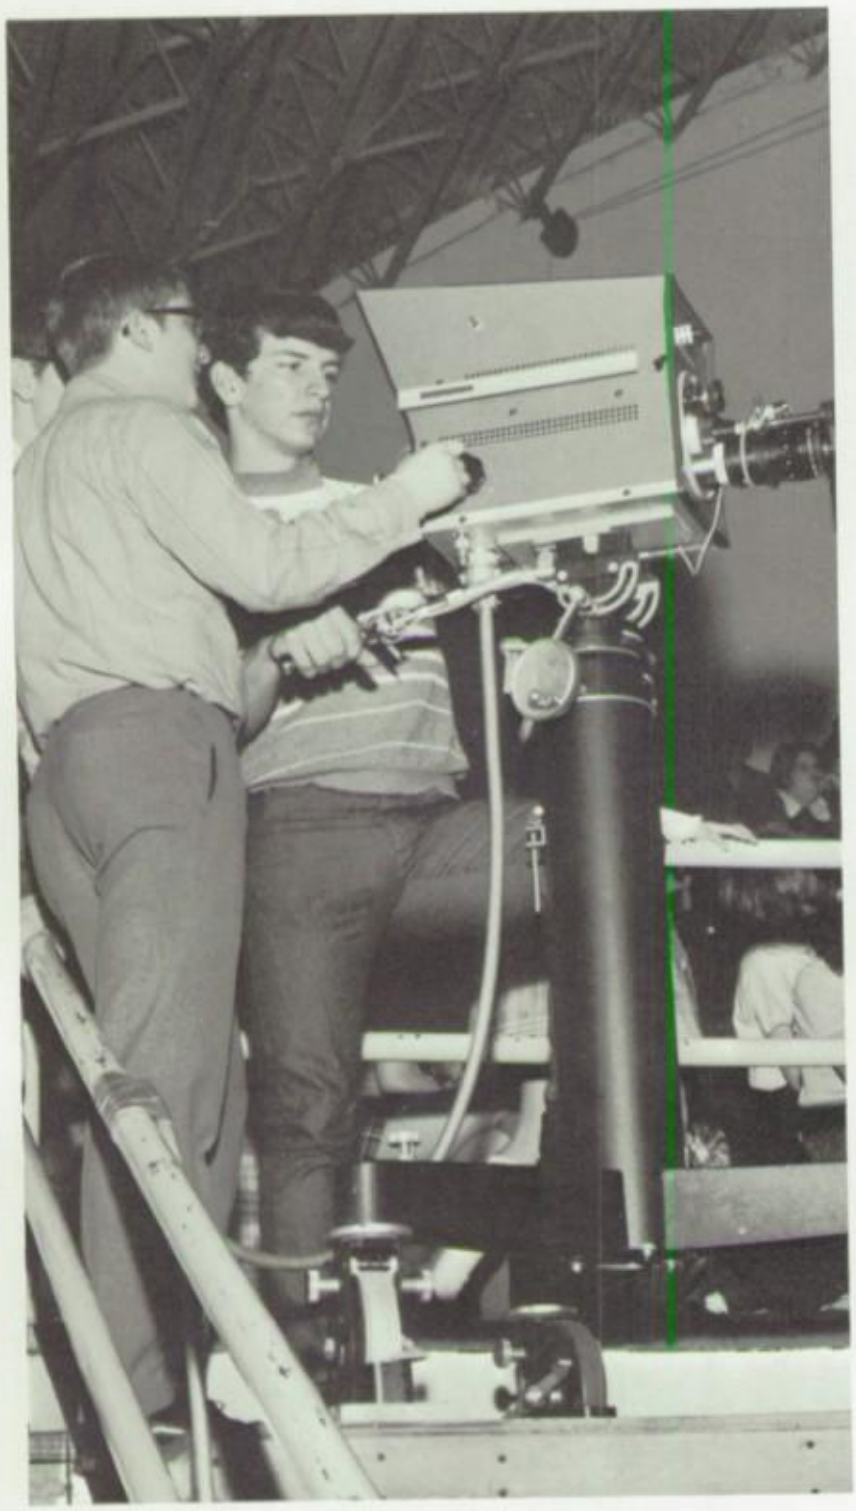
Four English teachers serve on the Adams Central faculty, teaching literature and English in all four grades along with speech, journalism, and composition. Emphasis on composition and critical thinking has been a goal throughout the year. With the aid of the electronics center, new approaches to subject matter have been initiated.

A trend toward elective English courses can be seen in the future which will bring exciting innovations into a once, sometimes unimaginative conventional classroom atmosphere.

ART AND MUSIC MEAN EXPRESSION

Senior Band member Darrell Gerig takes the stand. Could it be "like father, like son"?

(Above) Mr. David Zoll, Music and Band. Mr. Thomas Walsh, Art. Near the beginning of the creative process, Tom Garner cuts and forms the moist clay. (Below Left) Tim Light, like every artist, splashes paint in his own style. (Below) Mr. Henkel directs members of the middle school Stage Band in practice, striving for perfection.



Mr. Pat Nelson, Electronics Engineer.

Involved in Exploratory Teaching, Alan Arnold correlates a little basic geometry with his Algebra I lesson.

Joe Rich and Arlene Heyerly provide a service for the basketball team by helping tape the play-by-play.

On duty in the electronics center, Ross Andrews and Jon Rich handle any communications or programming problems that might arise. Lounging in those chairs sure makes a guy feel important, right fellows?

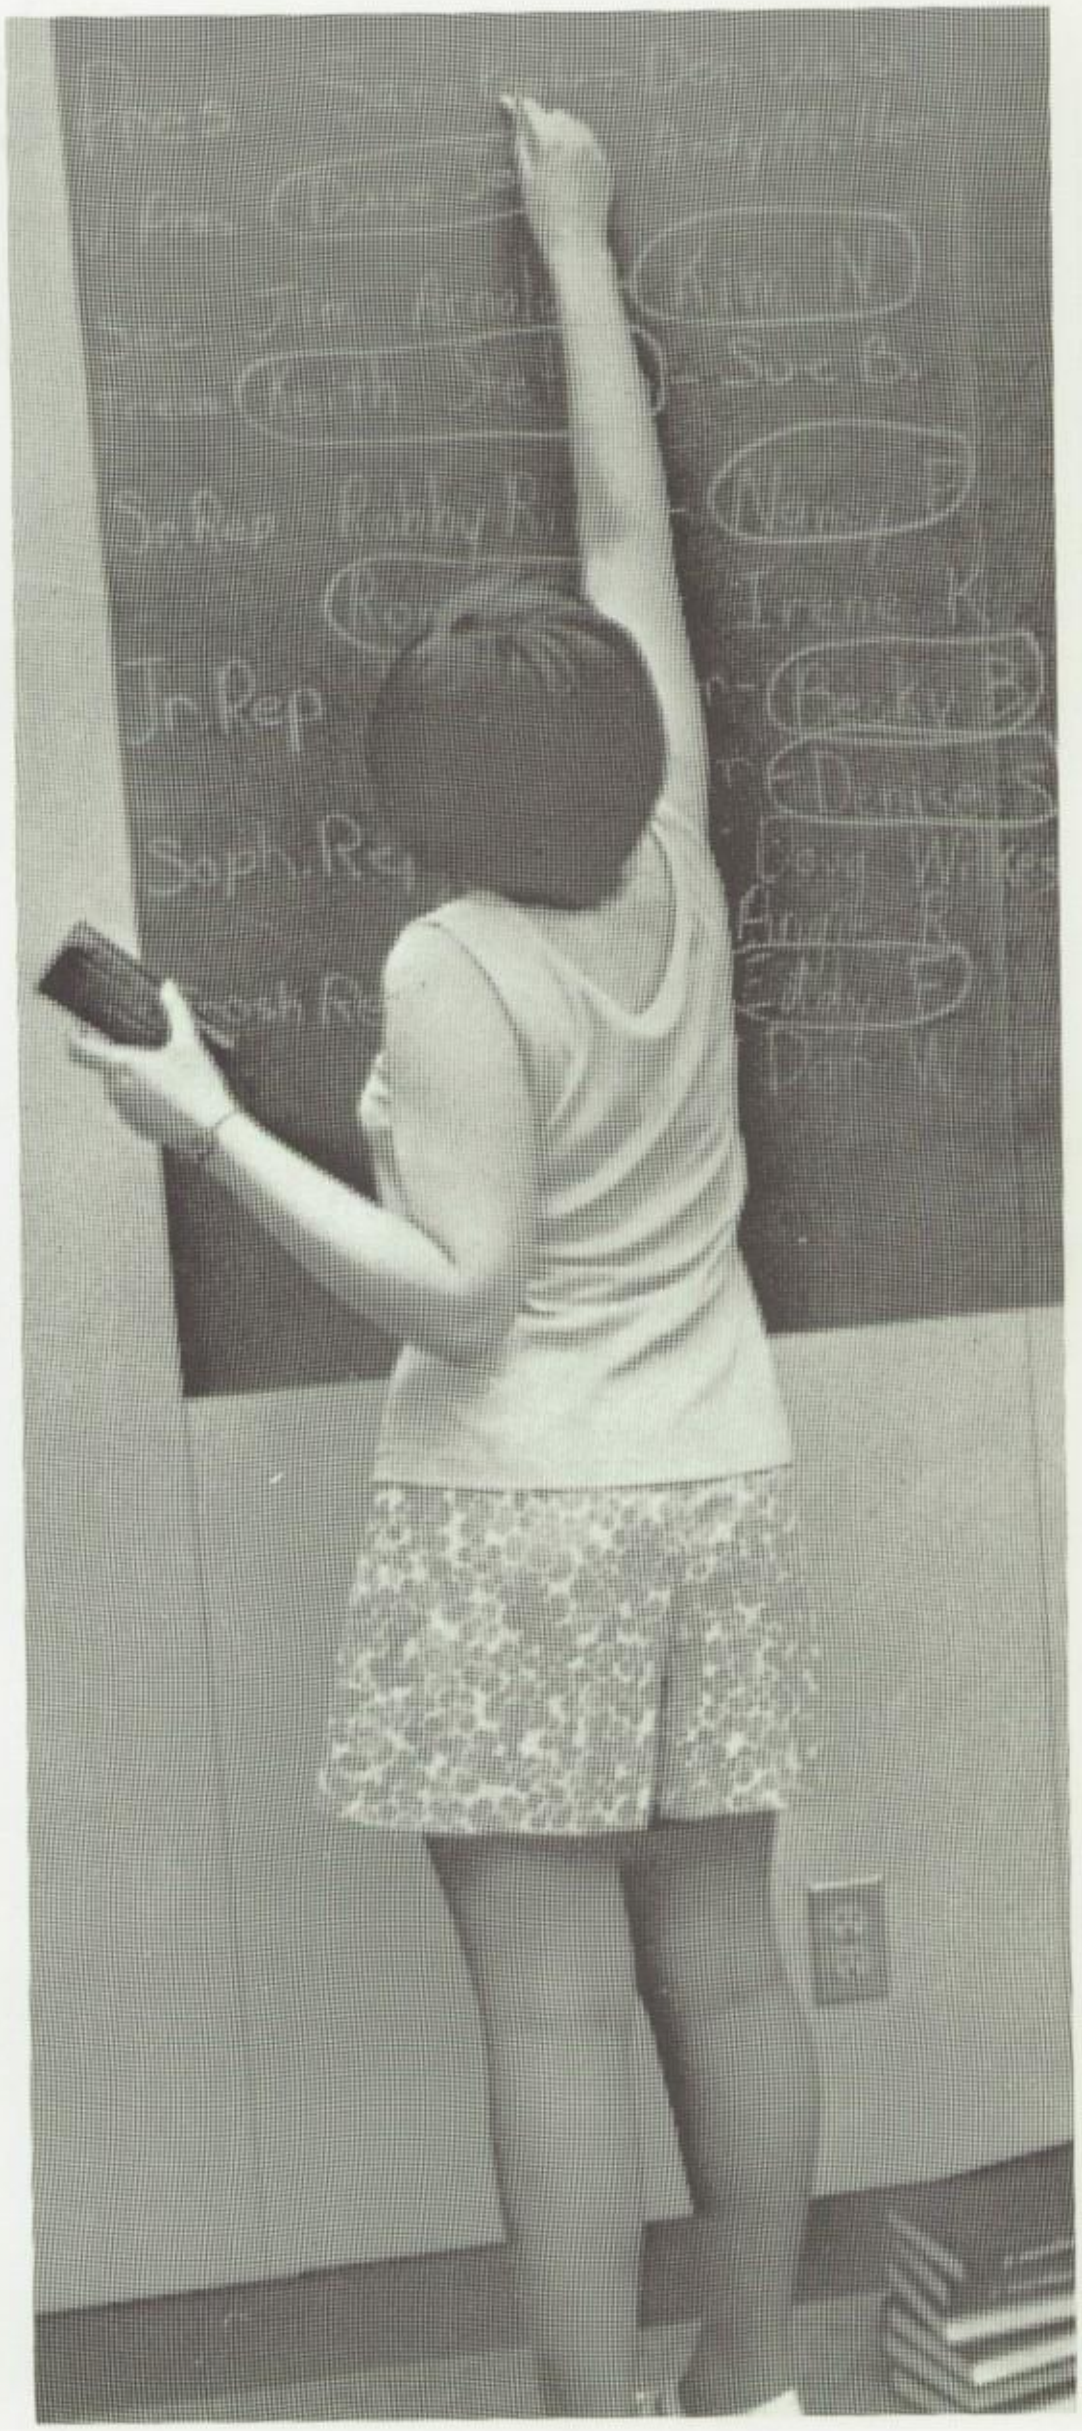
Joe and/or Jane Central rolls out at the crack of 4 o'clock, downs a quick glass of plasma to physc for Drama, hums the latest Choir tune on the way out to slop his and/or her FFA project, hogs, and slips back into the house to get two solid hours of clarinet practice in before a busy day at school. So goes the life of Joe and/or Jane Central (sometimes known as Joe and/or Jane Well-Rounded) who is not likely to see stardust till A.M. But, after all, It's a Time for Clubs . . .



(Right) Exemplifying their motto "service", the National Honor Society sponsored a fund-raising car wipe. Quill & Scroll Society was founded at the University of Iowa, April 10, 1926, as a non-secret honorary high school society. It was organized to recognize and reward ability and achievement in writing and other phases of journalistic work in high school.

The purpose of Quill & Scroll is to instill in students the ideal of scholarship; to advance the standards of the profession of journalism by developing better journalists and by inculcating a higher code of ethics; to promote exact and dispassionate thinking, as well as clear and forceful writing.

Members must be juniors or seniors in the upper third of their class in general scholastic standing who must have done superior work in some phase of journalism or school publication work.

Though a charter was applied for in 1956, the Adams Central chapter didn't become active until the 1970-1971 school year.

Quill & Scroll Members Virgene Lengerich and Darrell Gerig work to get the "Jet Stream" out on time, a chore that takes skill and experience.

STUDENT COUNCIL

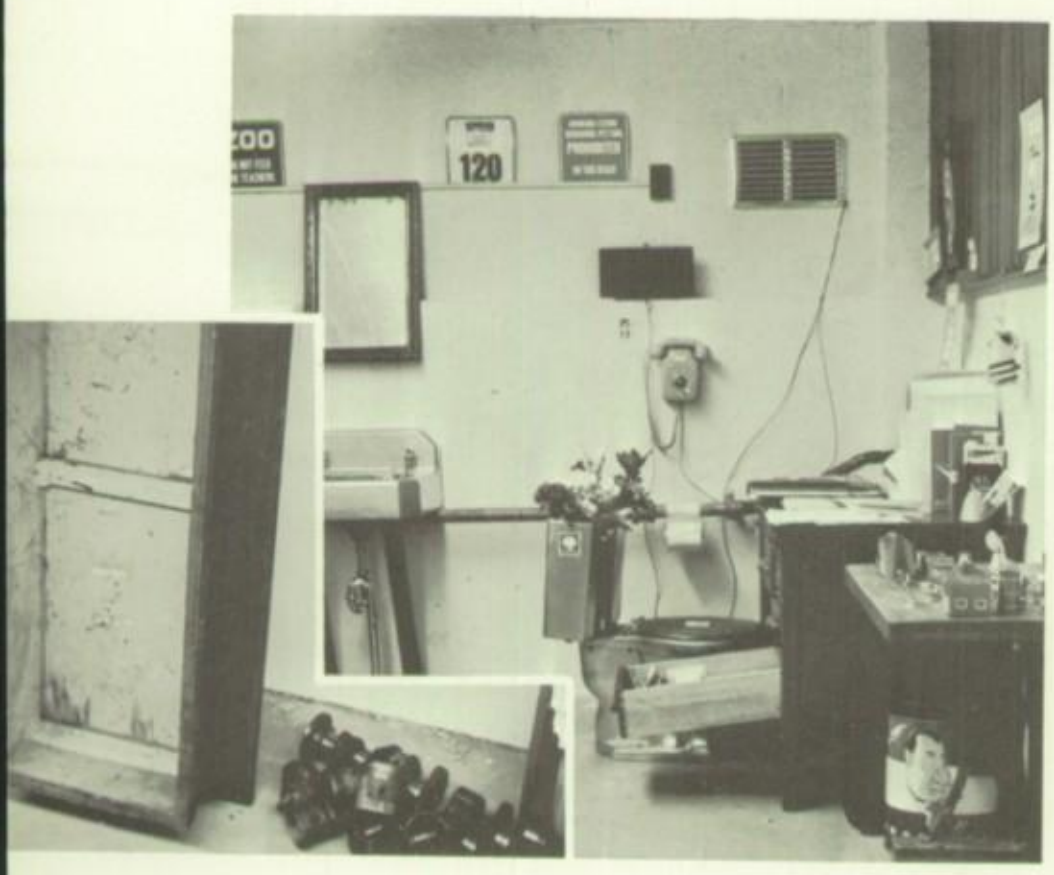
STAFFERS BIND FREEDOM, INITIATIVE



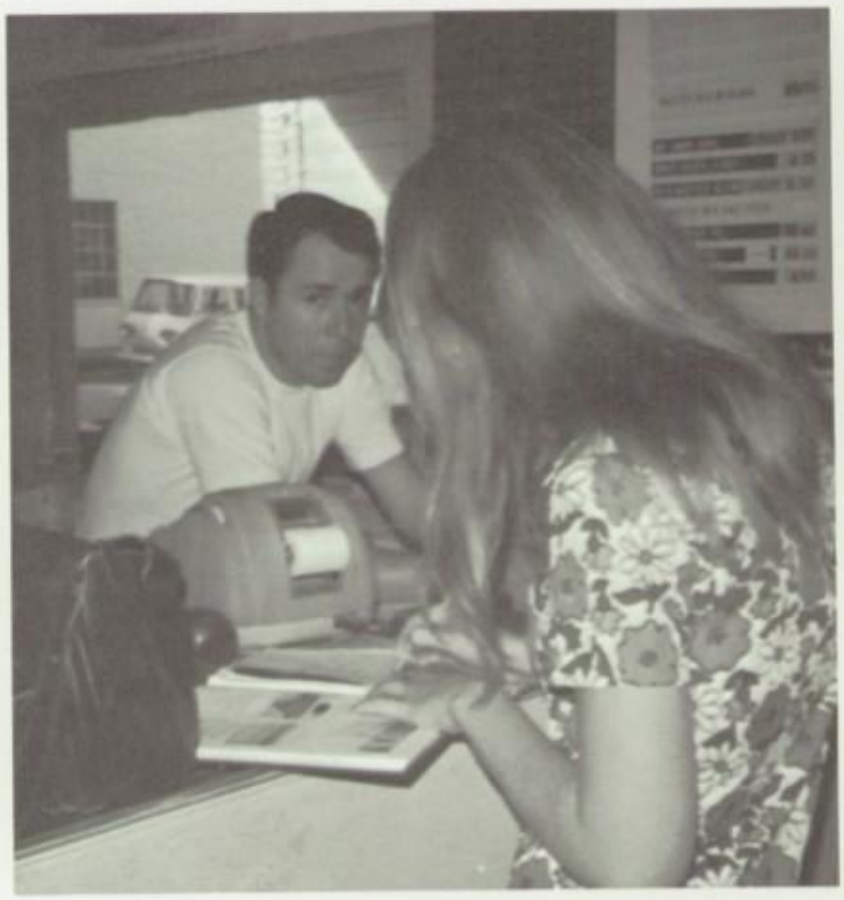
The high-school newspaper has five obligations to its readers; to inform, to interpret, to instruct, to influence and to entertain. A newspaper staff must be able to view and report news without bias and with good taste. The staff of the Jet Stream is divided into three sections, news, features, and sports. Editors of these sections are responsible to the Editor-in-Chief, who, in turn, sees that the machinery of the organization is kept running efficiently. Students in Journalism class learn the art of writing, copy reading and headlining stories in addition to making up the paper. The Jet Stream is distributed every two weeks, a product of the many people who comprise the staff.

With its unique facilities, the Journalism room has a little of everything for everybody.

YEARBOOK STRIVES TO CAPTURE TRUE PICTURE

A primary goal of the '71 editor of the Centrails staff was to get more pictures and good pictures. With the help of a dizzy little electronic gadget called, appropriately enough, a light meter, a complicated looking gray box called a Yashica 44, and truly unkillable optimism, nearly 500 exposures were attempted.

The yearbook organization this year joined the ranks of journalism students (as well as a few friendly cockroaches), in the very nerve center of publication activity--behind the blue door. The editor and his assistants faced four grueling deadlines, roughly a month apart, from March to June, and hope they put together a good book.



Practicing the "soft sell", Linda Gerber solicits an ad from Gary Ringger at the Berne Feed Mill.

On an initial "note" of relaxation the Band journeyed to Cedar Point in July for a sandy march and some fun in the hot sun. Activity crescendoing, the organization appeared in several parades, marching to a fourth-place tie at the Bluffton Fair. The 100-yard field became home until the "Marching Band" changed to "Concert Band" and the Pep Band reigned upon the stage. Grooving on three tunes, the Stage Band scored a first at contest. As a finale, the Band swapped environs with Celina's Band for an Exchange Concert. With their own purple outfits, the Swing Choir earned a paycheck at the Dutch Mill, an excellent at Contest and an appearance on T.V. The High School Choir sang at the Winter and Spring Concerts as well as on Easter's Sunrise. Demonstrating their talent at both seasonal concerts was the Girl's Glee Club which was joined by the Choir in serenading the audience at the Pops Concert.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

The year was a busy one for the Sunshine Chapter. It all began with the District Convention, a first for Adams Central, and a great success. The next event was the annual candy sales. Benefiting from the profits were the Riley Hospital and local charities. Adoption fees were also paid for the society's foster girls.

Sunshiners and their grandmothers were entertained with games at a new activity, Granny Night. Dads were not forgotten either, when their turn came on Daddy Date Night. Many girls were embarrassed as their fathers continuously returned to the main attraction, the kissing booth. In Mexican attire, the cafeteria was the scene for the Sunshine Banquet: "A Mexican Fiesta". A very special honor was bestowed Kathie Klopfleisch at the State Convention, that of being named State Recording Secretary. Before retiring as State Dean, Mrs. Stucky was able to officiate at the installation of State officers. No year would be complete without honoring the seniors, the mothers and the Ideal Ladies. And this event was The Mother's and Ideal Ladies' Tea where Mr. Markley and the Speech Club presented "Let's Make a Deal". Saying good-bye was a little hard for the seniors at the Senior Breakfast after such a busy and rewarding year.

DRAMA CLUB

Spring means many things to different people, but to the Drama Club, it means trying out for the play which is given in the spring of each year.

This year the play, BOYS AND GHOULS TOGETHER, required a lot of help from other departments within the school in order to have a sinister looking castle, flying black capes, and numerous screams and howls. Beside the efforts of the AC thespians to memorize their parts, the art department, the home economics department, the electronics department and the graphic arts department loaned their knowledge and aid to the drama club. The makeup committee, stage crew, and properties committee were also invaluable to the success of the show.

Talk about involvement. Talk about physical involvement, mental involvement, emotional involvement. If you are in high school athletics people will talk about you. It's a long grind; it's a big blast; it's like life. It's something to submerge your soul in, to set a goal in, to achieve your best in--no excuses offered or accepted. It's a time for sports . . .

C.C. lived at A.C. in '70. The harrier squad boasted six returning lettermen, a new coach, a dozen or so anxious understudies, and a will to win. In tough duel and tri-angular competition the Jets forged a 9--4 record, highlighted by a 21--35 defeat of South Adams at halftime of the annual football clash. The A.C. team depended on depth, but also appreciated fine performances from Phil Jasso, who captured the school record at 9:45.8 and Bill Stoller, Most Valuable Runner, who also broke 10:00 at 9:52.

Wrestling--a sport which takes a great amount of personal discipline, will power and a Brutally Aggressive Guy Uninhibited By Adversity, or BAGUBA for short. In Adams Central's first year of wrestling, Dave Smith and Dave Wilder shared the honors for BAGUGA of the year and team co-captains. They helped lead their team to an even 4--4 season. Dan Gremaux registered the season's fastest pin as he defeated his opponent in 33 seconds during the Monroe Central match, which ended as the entire teams most successful encounter of the year. Scott Bassett won the 120 pound weight division title during the Homestead Invitational meet in January, and was one of four wrestlers from A.C. to advance beyond the first round of sectional competition.

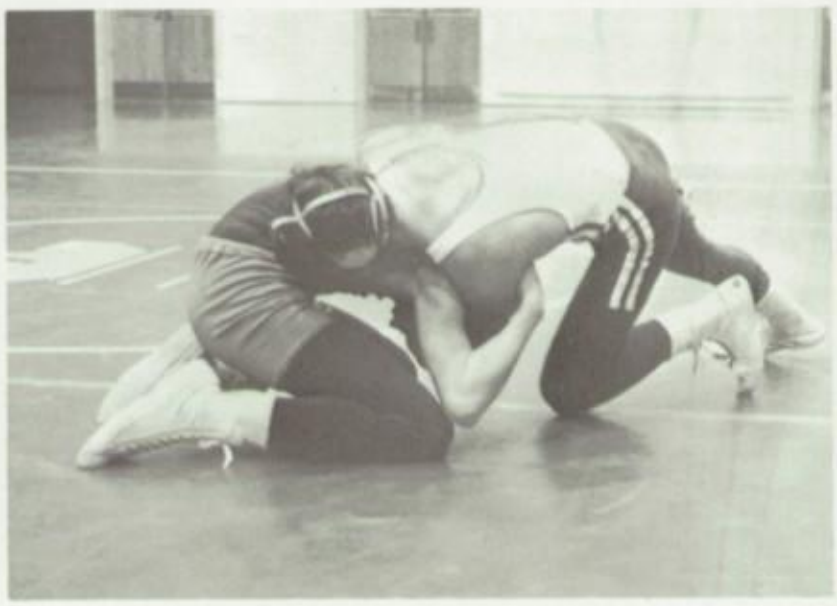
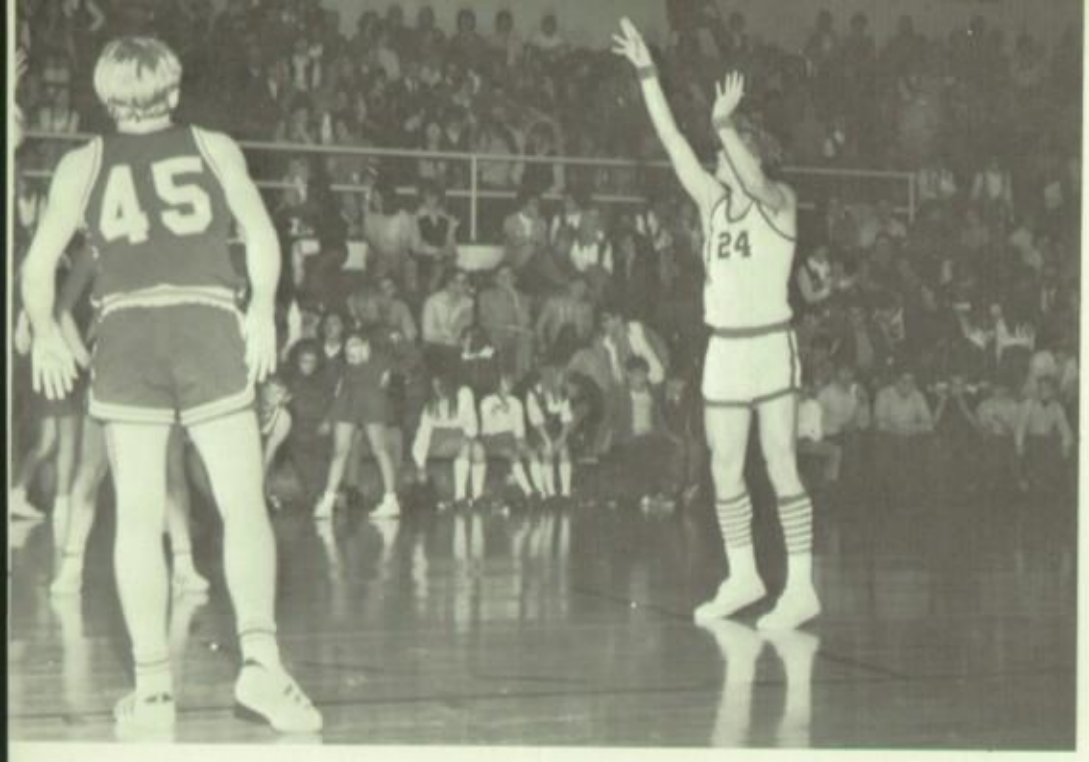
"Feedbaggers" Steve Rich, Tom Sprunger and Ken Zimmerman agree: food sure tastes good when you've been hungry for three months.





Junior guard Kim Fisher delicately toes the line as he releases a foul shot. The Jet's season free throw average was .612.

Success is a hard quantity to measure; a label like 2--18 stamped onto a season doesn't account for all the effort, the desire, and the getting beat and coming back. After a slow start, the Jets found their range against Southern Wells in an exciting home game, winning 67--62. Climaxing a series of close contests was a 76--78 loss to Eastside and in the final stretch the A.C. club took out Homestead on the foreign floor 63--59. Psyched to play inspired ball, the Flying Jets nearly made it at sectional, turning ice-cold against South Adams after a third quarter lead. Veteran Bill Stoller, season high point man, represented A.C. on the ACAC Honorable Mention team.

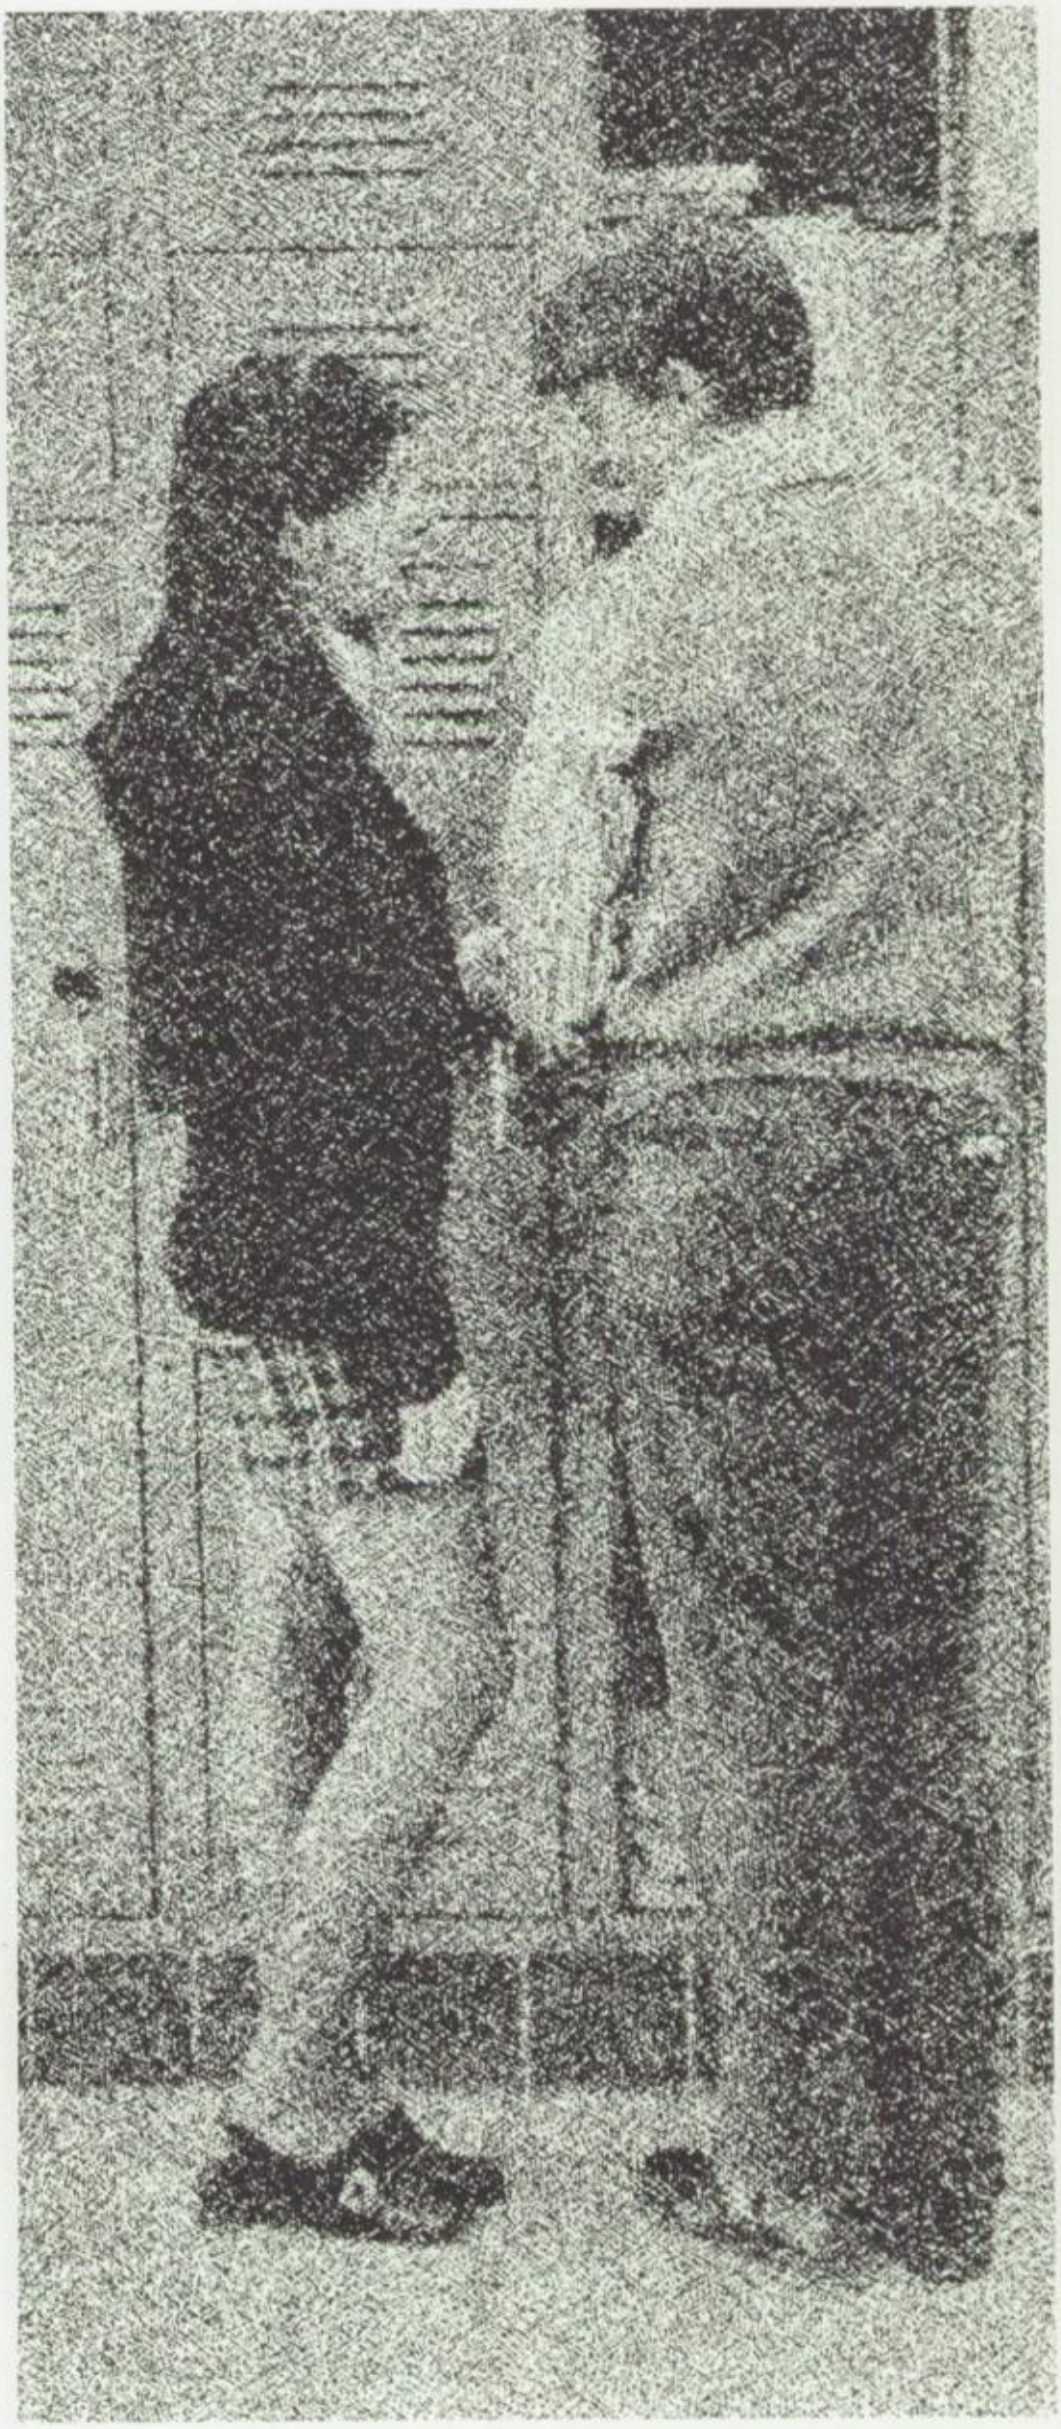
Friends

HI JOHN... HI JOE.. WHAT'S NEW, KATHY... HOW YA' DOING, BARB?
HI DAVE... HELLO THERE BILL, WHAT'S NEW? HI, LINDA.
CINDY! HOW YA' HANGIN', KID?... HI YA', MIKE!

They're all around. They're in class, helping, and in the hallway, chattering and ambling; and in the lab. They're in the library around that special table, at lunch and in the conference room and in the Journalism room. Friends surround you after school, flooding every corner of your life. They get on your nerves. They get inside of you. You have more of them now than at any other time of your life. It's a time for friends . . .



IN OURSELVES OUR FUTURE LIES

With the formalities of electing officers, choosing the class motto (above), and the class colors, red and white, and ordering their graduation announcements, personal cards, and thank-you cards, the Big Men on Campus (Seniors) carried out the traditional pranks. Even though the annual Washington's Birthday T.P. festival had to be postponed to Good Friday, the several private parties made it on schedule. The 12th grade guys sucked 'em up in 70-71 and starred in several individual as well as team sports. As their twelfth long year slipped by the class of 71 began to look forward to jobs, college, and marriage but undoubtedly faced graduation with a little sadness.

1. Seniors always have time for a chat, and occasionally time for the Jet Stream. 2. Ann Engle just can't keep a straight face sometimes. 3. Although they weren't designed for total relaxation, Kathy Bieberich proves those lecture seats are adequate. 4. Ask any Senior. 5. It's Christmas and Patti Yost, Cindy Baker, Karen Steury, Debi Nussbaum and Debi Barger can't resist a party. 6. A fine prospect for "Best Chest", Steve Maller proves "a healthy person is a happy person". 7. Debi Barger and Barb Nussbaum concentrate on comp. 8. SENIORS Mary Jo Nussbaum and Rhonda Aronld take one last plunge into childhood. 9. Jim Grove, registering no shock, and Rick Loshe pick up their semester report cards.

JUNIORS FACE MARKLEY, NUMEROUS DECISIONS

The class of '72 found it hard to realize that they were finally Juniors, especially after losing the annual magazine sales to the sophs. Their pride, however, was soon boosted by Richard Engle's feat of devouring eighteen ice cream sandwiches while working the concessions, and by the successful move started by Junior girls, that allowed slacks to be worn at school. There was work, SATs, term papers, History, and increasing leadership responsibilities. And there was fun; the Patterson Field of which Rod Owens and Teri Morningstar are members, performed at the Junior dance on Jan. 2, and then there was the Prom, going steady, and driving instead of walking.

118 FRESHMEN START RACE FOR DIPLOMA, HIGH SCHOOL HONORS

Freshman Class Officers: Amee Steury, Treasurer; Ron Myers, Vice-President; Kim Nussbaum, Secretary; Jon Kaehr, President.

The 1970-71 school year was quite eventful for the freshmen. In October we worked diligently on our class homecoming float only to be defeated by the sophomores. On January 8th, after the Portland basketball game, the freshmen sponsored a swinging record hop. As for sports, our freshman football team had a rather dismal season, but the basketball team made up for that by completing the season with one of the best records in the school, 7 wins and 6 losses. During sectional week we decorated a hall in jet-style to inspire our mighty Jets. To finish up the year we had a skating party in Fort Wayne.

As Pattie Eckhart looks on, Karen Wyss and Terry Fawcett discover that school bus romances start even in kindergarten.

A student teacher, Miss Coroll, tutors kindergarteners Greg Vanhorn and Julie Urick in drawing with crayons.

Is not Knowledge a light flickering in Life's long, long, hallway?
We stop,
and stare in fascination;
We stop,
and smile;
But time catches us
in our respite and bordeom blinds
our imaginations.
We turn,
and the light is gone.

From the businessman's point of view the community school is a concentrated and important market. It's the school kids who have money to burn on clothes, cars, fads and foods. And these "kids" will surprisingly soon have their diplomas and be hunting their places in the business world. This puts the local retailers, as well as the entire business community, in a pretty important position. As for the Central students, it's a time for buying . . .

ANOTHER SCHOOL YEAR HAS ENDED... ANOTHER CEN-TRAILS HAS BEEN PUBLISHED...
